Have You An Account?

This is a serious question, one at which some folks take offense, yet salesmen are under the necessity of asking it. Some folks deal near home, settle infrequently, never investigate to see whether they pay more than they should and too often allow their accounts to go long over due. If you don't care what the family expenses are it's a poor way to do if you want to leave your children in affluent circumstances when you are gone. Now it is quite an advantage to have an open account at a well-known house, who can execute your order promptly. Often persons say they don't want an account and will pay in a few days. But we cannot keep memoranda of charges; it isn't safe or good business. The stock found in ordinary stores is usually stale, uninviting and inferior, while the stock in our store is turned so frequently and so carefully watched that it is at all times fresh. Our stock in trade consists of the luxuries and delicacies from every civilized nation. Send for our catalogue and prices and note the variety offered. Telephone us—240. We supply all nationalities.

LANDSCAPE DRAWING.

Interesting Ideas For the Amateur in Art—Sketches For Painting.

Though it is perhaps more difficult to excel in landscape than in figure painting, it is easier to produce satisfactory and even valuable work. This is a pleasant assurance, coming as it does from such good authority as Art Amateur, which explains as follows:

A long course of study of drawing is necessary to enable the student to produce a passable figure, but if he have a feeling for natural beauty a little practice will enable him to do meritorious work in landscape. A sufficient mastery of drawing may be acquired in a few winters by studying from copy and from still life objects indoors. That is sufficient to begin with, for the better the landscape painter draws the easier it is for him to paint well and the more his painting signifies.

The drawing which a landscape painter executes with pencil or charcoal or crayon before commencing to paint is usually nothing more than a simple "blocking out" or "placing" of the principal forms which he intends to get into his picture. Let us suppose that his subject includes a large tree with a rock on one side and a house on the other. He says to himself: "I will place my tree here, near the center of the picture. It is to be so high, consequently so broad. The rock is at such a distance to the right, the house so far to the left. Neither is as high as the tree; the rock not so high as the house." And so he goes on making general observations like these as to the size and position of important objects and indicating his conclusions slightly and without going into detail.

The student should continue to work just as simply, at first, when he takes up his brush. He should go on working in large masses, and should ask himself—to keep to our illustration—just how much darker is the green of the tree than the gray of the rock, how much darker the shadows than the lights, what relation exists between the sky and the objects that appear against it, and between these same objects again and the foreground. Little by little one will acquire the ability to introduce minor forms, while becoming more correct in the drawing of the larger masses.

Reasons Why

There are two reasons why people are now paying car fare all the way from Waikiki to the Palama Grocery and back. Reason 1. It is the only place on the Islands where the celebrated Salvation Army tea is sold. Reason 2. After paying car fare both ways patrons find they are money in pocket by dealing at this "live and let live" establishment. We also deliver goods between Diamond Head and Moanalua free.

Sarsaparilla Sense.

Any sarsaparilla is sarsaparilla. True. So any tea is tea. So any flour is flour. But grades differ. You want the best. It's so with sarsaparilla. There are grades. You want the best. If you understood sarsaparilla as well as you do tea and flour it would be easy to determine. But you don't. How should you?

When you are going to buy a commodity whose value you don't know, you pick out an old established house to trade with, and trust their experience and reputation. Do so when buying sarsaparilla.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been on the market fifty years. Your grandfather used Ayer's. It is a reputable medicine. There are many sarsaparillas. But only one Ayer's. IT CURES.
